

Nimbus Eco® offers a unique opportunity for socially minded companies looking to offer a complete range of the latest eco-friendly tissue and towel products with our innovative tree free technology that not only requires less water and energy to create, but allows companies to improve profits through cost savings. We are the premiere creator of tree free products in the world, with the largest offering of paper towels, napkins, toilet paper and hand towels specifically created to service the b2b, b2c, and white label markets. Our 100% bamboo tissue is softer and stronger than anything that has come before it, rated up to 40% higher than Seventh Generation and Charmin in internal focus groups.

A key component of our unique product offering is the competitive price. Until now, consumers have had to sacrifice quality and pay more for eco-friendly products, no longer. We've sourced the highest quality bamboo from farms, not forests, allowing us to provide the most sustainable, secure, and competitively priced products available. In addition to cost savings, we have taken every step to reduce our impact and yours. What does that mean? It means no pesticides are needed and all water for growth comes naturally. In addition, we bleach our products with hydrogen peroxide, a non-chlorine bleach that does not harm the environment when it breaks down. Simply put, our biodegradable products are some of the most eco-friendly ever created.

While most of the other "tree free" companies have focused solely on the retail industry, Nimbus Eco® aims to become the leading provider of innovative products in the b2b space, helping you go green and reduce your impact or that of your customers. Companies the world over are causing immense environmental damage, for instance IKEA® alone deforests 2% of the worlds timber resources annually! With Nimbus Eco® one simple addition to your product offering can make a huge impact, reducing rainforest destruction and through our plant a tree program, can equate to thousands of new trees planted annually.
